SOLDIER WAS ROUGHLY USED

Bystanders Complain to High Sheriff Brown of a Police Officer

The rough handling of a colored soldier of the Twenty-fifth Infantry yesterday afternoon on Fort street by police officer No. 14 attracted an unusually large crowd about the pair. The soldier as a consequence was taken to the station house suffering not only from too much whisky, but from a terrible blow received on his head at the hands of the officer. A Lieutenant of police saw the soldier in charge of a comrade coming down Fort street, reeling under the influence of liquor. As the man was in tow of a soldier man he allowed them to pass on, but later his attention was directed to a protrusion in the man's hip pocket, which had the appearance of a revolver. He thereupon arrested the man and took the revolver, one of the army pattern, from him. He turned the man over to officer No. 14 at the corner of Fort and King streets, while he turned in a call for the patrol wagon. The latter did not respond quickly to the call, and as the Lieutenant held a revolver in his hand, a crowd rapidly collected.

Officer No. 14 held his man from the rear by his shoulders, steadying him against an iron column at the entrance to the First National bank. While the Lieutenant was turning in a second call, officer No. 14 seemed to throw the man violently to the cement pavement and pounced down upon him, grasping him by the wrists. The soldier's head struck the pavement a resounding blow and he did not move. Other police officers came through the crowd by this time and picked up the man, who began bleeding from the nose and from a wound on the left temple. A number of gentlemen who saw the occurrence rushed to the scene and indignantly protested to the Lieutenant against the treatment accorded the soldier. When the soldier was picked up and laid in the patrol wagon several gentlemen went to the police station to lodge a complaint against officer No. 14, Keana by name. At the station house the man was searched and had $150 in bills upon his person. He was still in a semi-unconscious condition when taken below to a cell. High Sheriff Brown instituted an investigation, the gentlemen stating their complaints.

WAIKIKI ROAD WIDENING MAKES RAPID PROGRESS

Many Fences Are Already Down and Others Are Being Removed All Along the Outer Sections.

ALTHOUGH the plan for widening the Waikiki road has been approved and work under it in progress less than a month, there has been made such a start that the traveler by the route easily sees what will be the result when the entire road has been made to conform to the plans which have been followed in the setting back of fences now on the new property lines. Between Kapiolani Park and the Waikiki stream, which divides the Hawaiian Hotel Annex property and the Moana Hotel sites, more than one-half of the removal work has been accomplished or is under way.

The widening of the thoroughfare within the limits named is being accomplished on the mauka side only. In previous widenings of the road the mauka properties were cut down as much as they could be and yet keep the lots of such depth as to permit of their improvement. The new extensions of the road have the additions on the mauka side only. This means more or less trouble along the frontages owing to the improvements, but the one great stretch, that of the Kapiolani estate, comprised in the homestead of the Dowager Queen and now the residence of the two Princes, has been made to conform to the new line, the fence being back to the line, and the traveler sees just what the boulevard will be when its entire length has been treated to Superintendent Boyd's remedy.

The first lot which was cut back to the new line was that which is at the immediate corner of the road skirting Kapiolani Park on the ewa boundary. This is a vacant spot which is the property of E. S. Cunha. The fence has been removed and the small trees which were growing cut down, the improvement being accomplished without material sacrifice of foliage. Immediately adjoining, on the town side, is the residence of Mrs. Lemon, where the fences have not yet been removed, but arrangements have been made, and this will be done very shortly. There will fall very few large trees there and what remains will make a beautiful appearance. In the Ocean View property of J. Ottman there has been removed the store and residence, making the line straight to the stream. The improvement being accomplished in the houses there are three stores, all small ones, and these being the property of ex-Queen Liliuokalani, have been arranged for the removal. The only thing which delays action there is that the deeds of the property ceded to the Territory have not yet arrived from Washington, where they were acknowledged, but J. O. Carter, agent for the owner, expects them in the mail arriving this week. There will be in the same package the deeds to two unoccupied lots, which are below the road, extending to the Kapiolani estate homestead.

On the Ewa side of the road running toward the mill is the corner property which is known as the one-dollar-a-foot piece, that amount being the sum claimed by the owner, the Kapiolani estate. The lot is very shallow, something close to 100 feet, and the widening of the street will put the river almost back to the house. The practical destruction of the property is based. Immediately below this lot come in the two vacant properties of ex-Queen Liliuokalani, the only building which must be removed being a small stable. The moving will be a matter of small moment as there is little vegetation there. Immediately at the corner of the two holdings is a Government well, furnishing water for the sprinklers. This well will be kept, the pipe from it being run under the road to the curb line, where there will be a standpipe from which the road carts will be supplied.

Along the entire front of Pualeilani, the Princes' home, the fences have been removed, the ground leveled, and almost all the stumps removed. The setting back of this long line of fence, extending from the upper end of the property, opposite the beach place of the ex-Queen, to the Cleghorn road, caused some loss of ancient trees, but now that the improvement has been made the loss seems considerable, only the cocoanuts being greatly missed. There were something like fifty trees removed, some twenty being cocoanuts and the rest divided between date palms and algarobas.

Below the Cleghorn road the old graveyard is being removed. The bodies being taken up are about thirty in number, and all are being reinterred in the lot at the rear of the church. This is Government land, as is the school house site, and while the fences are going back there is as well being accomplished the removal of most of the palms, though they are not of great size. From the school house to the Waikiki stream the property is that of the Moana Hotel, and the changes there are being made already. This will include the taking back of the lot the store on the banks of the stream, which will be accomplished very soon. On the city side of the has been accomplished nothing, except that Superintendent Boyd, with his usual energy, has kept up the work so unflaggingly that there are not more than three interests which have to be settled before he can announce that the road widening from the King street end to the park will depend only on the work of the men.

Just Ewa of the stream are the Queen Emma and the Hotel Annex properties, on either side of the road, and these promise to give some trouble. The Government, through Superintendent Boyd, has offered a compromise which may yet be accepted and will mean little loss to the beauty of the boulevard, since the widening must be accepted as a fact. The loss according to the plans will include the south side line of the cocoanut trees in the Annex grounds, but Mr. Boyd has suggested that the Government will extend the lily pond and replant the lily bulbs, so that within three months there will be just as pretty a pond as there now is, though the cocoanut trees which would have to be replanted will not give the effect of tropical beauty which now distinguishes the park.

On the mauka side of the road there is nothing to be done but cut out the date palm trees, unless they are moved back, the suggestion that they be left as dividing the driving crown from the street car lines not meeting with official approval now. There is, however, a growing sentiment that there should be some such addition to the foliage features of the boulevard, and some of the Waikiki people are talking of a meeting for the purpose of making representation to the Department of Public Works on this subject. There will yet have to be settlements effected with the owners and lessees of these properties.

Extending from the Queen Emma homestead to the boundaries of the Cornwell-Bowler-Ahrens property is the holding of Bruce Cartwright. In these premises Superintendent Boyd has accomplished a settlement at the rate of less than 1 cent a foot. The property is entirely banana and vegetable gardens, with the exception of a small store, which can be moved without trouble. The Cornwell property has been offered to the Government for 15 cents a foot, but Mr. Boyd is working upon the tax lists to see the values as appraised before settling. The same is true of the Charles Booth lands, which lie between McCully Land Company holdings, and the differences as to values are such that the Government, while hopeful of an early settlement, may yet have to place the matter in the hands of a jury. All the other holdings are now the property of the Government under settlement and the work of setting back the fences will go on with rapidity.

The making of a sweeping curve rather than the sharp elbow which is now at the Hopkins switch, will have various effects. The fact that the house at the corner, which is now unoccupied, belongs to the Government, makes the task an easy one, as it enables a settlement with Judd and McCully owners, which will be beneficial to all and will reduce the amount of damages which otherwise might have to be paid. The road from the property of Superintendent Boyd, instead of having the sharp turn, will meet the straight stretch with a long curve, the house at the corner being left with the rear fronting the new boulevard. This will give frontage to property which now lies enclosed by Government holdings, and slight exchanges there will be ample compensation for holders who give land further out the road.

Superintendent Boyd is greatly elated over the progress which has been made in the work. He said yesterday that in his opinion there would be final settlements in every case before the end of June or early in July at the very latest, and as there was a sufficient frontage already secured to enable the force of his department to keep right along at work setting back fences, there would be no delay caused by any slight hanging back in the adjustment of the minor holdings.

With this prospect the entire boulevard to the park should be ready for public use in its new and improved form early in the fall.

Band Notes

The government band gave an orchestral concert yesterday afternoon at the Queen's hospital. This morning at 9:30 o'clock the band will play aboard the transport Buford and this evening will give a concert at Thomas Square. On Friday evening, by general request, Kappelmeister Berger has consented to give a moonlight concert at Makee Island. On Saturday and Sunday the band will play at the Holy Ghost festival in the Cathedral cathedral grounds, and will give the customary public concerts both days as usual.

FUNERAL OF ROBT. LISHMAN

His Remains Were Buried in the Beautiful Nuanu Cemetery.

Beneath a mound of newly turned sod, almost hidden from the sun by a profusion of flowers that tell of the sincere sorrow of a multitude of friends and relatives, the remains of Robert Lishman are at rest in Nuanu Valley cemetery. The funeral of the well-known kamaaina took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence on Keeaumoku street, Makiki, services being conducted there and also at the grave. Hundreds of the former associates and friends of the deceased assembled to give evidence of the esteem in which they held him.

At the residence a large gathering of people assembled in the parlor and on the lanais. The casket rested in the parlor, almost covered with a profusion of flowers and leis, and other floral offerings filled the house with a gentle perfume. The grief-stricken family remained near the casket during the service, which was conducted by Rev. William M. Kincaid, of Central Union Church. A choir from Central Union, consisting of Mrs. J. T. McDonald, soprano; Mrs. Cornelia B. Damon, alto; Charles Elston, tenor, and Professor A. B. Ingalls, bass, sang beautifully "Abide With Me," and "Just As I Am." The minister read the full Congregational service of the dead with much feeling.

At the conclusion of the benediction the casket was borne to the hearse from the home which Mr. Lishman had enjoyed for so many years by the palbearers, Messrs. J. O. Carter, Colonel George W. Macfarlane, Robert Catton, W. F. Allen, John F. Soper and F. J. Wilhelm. Close behind them came several of the sons and daughters of the deceased, William, Thomas, Percy and George Lishman, Mrs. Jane Moore, Mrs. Creighton, Miss Margaret Lishman and Miss Daisy Lishman. The widow did not go to the cemetery. John Lucas, an old friend of the deceased, had charge of the funeral. The interment was in Nuanu Valley cemetery, in the Lishman plot.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalp of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substances.

Catarrh Can Be Cured

Some people have had catarh as long as they can remember—to cough, choke and constantly gurgle, and expectorate a regular habit—sort of a second nature but vile and annoying. Catarh in the head is an inflamed condition of the mucous membranes in the nasal passages often caused by a cold. Now, unless this inflammation is drawn out the catarh will continue to do endless damage. It will rot the bones in the nose, cause deafness, injure the sight, cause a foul breath.

Indigestion will also follow for the stomach has work of its own with ut trying to digest the foul chunks of debris that matter that slide down the throat from the head while the sufferer is asleep. Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine cures catarh, drives the inflammation out of the body, purifies the blood, gives tone and vigor to the membranes and the health to the whole system. It cools, allays and heals and is well in a short time at very small cost—50c and $1 a bottle.
